

Hi there,

Thanks for taking our quiz, How Systematized is Your Business. I can tell that you care about having a business that doesn't rely on you (just think about it for a minute: what would you do if you didn't have to work In it every day?).

No matter where you are in your systems development, I want you to have all the resources necessary to move forward. Because, let's face it, systems are the foundation of every great business.

Start by reading EMyth Coach Nick Lawler's series on systems development, "How to Run Your Business Like NASA Going to the Moon." It's a six-part blog series with rich advice and insight straight from our Coaching Program.

In his blog series, Nick shares:

- How to keep your business under control
- What you can do to help your team create extraordinary results
- The true purpose and power of an operations manual
- How to develop a strategic perspective
- The link between systems and profitability
- How to create a business that will serve your life

**Read the Series**

Enjoy!

Alison Hough
Content Manager

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Alison Hough".

P.S. We've helped thousands of owners build effective systems in their business for 40 years, so I know we can help you too (no matter